

Jeff Malm

2010 Inductee

Jeff began playing Little League baseball in 1966 in Orangevale, CA. He lettered at Bella Vista High School where he also was an outstanding basketball player. His next baseball stop was City League ball where he developed many close friendships, and then the River City Expos in the Sacramento Night League. Jeff's SMSBL career began 21 years ago in 1989. He began playing with the Orioles, and won a few league championships with them, and also served as their manager for a few years. He next played for the White Sox and then the Cardinals. He has played and/or managed in 5 World Series Tournaments, played in 5 Fall Classics and won a Fall Classic Ring in 2000 with Cal Gold. Besides being considered one of the best defensive first baseman in the SMSBL and a consistent clutch hitter, Jeff and his entire family devoted an extraordinary amount of time and talent as he served as the construction project manager of the Dan McAuliffe Memorial Ballpark. Many long time Sacramento baseball players and fans have commented that it is now the premier baseball facility in the city. Jeff is a great addition to the SMSBL HOF Club.
